Principal

Karen Murton

In my initial year as Principal of Branksome Hall, I have enjoyed a multitude of "first experiences"! Many of you can imagine what these experiences might include — living at the school is one very good example. Number 4 Elm Avenue has become home for the Murton family and we have thoroughly enjoyed becoming part of campus life. In the fall and winter terms, I experienced my first Prefect Installation, Principal Installation and Carol Service. They were very grand, memorable and meaningful events. There are many first-time, unique events associated with student life: Clan Gathering; Terry Fox aerobics and run; the Father/Daughter dance; athletic competitions; drama and musical performances; celebration dinners with the boarders; school clubs and community service events. These activities have made me very proud of the Branksome student body during my first year. Many of my first time experiences are actually very old and well-established routines that make up the very fabric and life of our school. As Branksome embraced my family and me, we became aware of the tremendous sense of spirit and care that accompanies welcoming a new Principal. This, in fact, is the Branksome way in so many instances. The Slogan provides readers with a review of the past year. It also provides a focal point for future reminiscence. The twenty-first century will hold many exciting challenges and possibilities for all of our students, as the next generation of leaders and thinkers. I believe that the unique experiences offered to you at Branksome Hall will help you prepare for the responsibilities that lie ahead. I encourage you to learn all you can from your teachers, your parents and your peers as you embrace the life and the opportunities that await you. I commend the Slogan Staff for their effort, community spirit and commitment to our school in producing such a fine yearbook. You have given us a piece of Branksome history that will last a lifetime.

Dean Of Students

Nanci Smith

The year began with energy and excitement as Branksome welcomed the school's seventh principal. Mrs. Murton's warmth and enthusiasm for the students and their interests was evident in the first assembly on the first day of school. Mrs. Murton and Head Girl, Sarah Psutka, both spoke on that first day about the importance of community. Sarah introduced the students' motto for the year, PRIDE, RESPECT, UNITY, SPIRIT and challenged us all to make this year Branksome's best yet. While recognizing the achievements of individuals, belonging to the Branksome community enables students to function with a collective energy even greater than the sum of their individual energies. With the unity this year, students created wonderful new activities and re-established some cherished traditions. The students have supported one another in the classroom, in sport and in the Arts, as well as working consistently through student government to ensure that student voices are heard. It is a privilege to be a part of this community. Thank you to all the students for making this a year to be proud of.

HEADGIRL

For nine months of the year, each morning, some eight hundred and fifty girls wake up, tumble out of bed and into their green plaid kilts and ties. They make the trek to school, carrying book bags the size of small mountains on their backs, to arrive at a large ivy-covered building. They enter, and soon that big, empty house is transformed, becoming alive. These girls are the pulse of the school, breathing life into its halls. These girls are you, the students of Branksome Hall. We are a school of individuals, brought together by Branksome and together, we represent an invincible force.

This year, the plaid-clad girls of Branksome Hall have struck again. We have never had so much spirit, so much energy, and so much pride in our school. Whether it's been at our cheer-off, the Clan gatherings, or when you all came out to duct-tape your teacher to the wall: we have proven, yet again, exactly why Branksome Hall is such an incredible school!

While it is your enthusiasm and spirit that makes Branksome so strong, we must remember that it is Branksome that empowers each of us with the ability to accomplish so much. For Branksome is also a school built on dreams, and on our endless pursuit of them. In Branksome's classrooms, our teachers help us to learn, but their wisest lessons don't come from the texts, but from themselves, as they teach us more about who we are, and who we would like to be. Whether you are just starting Branksome in grade one, or you wear a red tie this year, you are never too old to try something new or learn something else as each day we are given the tools which bring our dreams ever closer to becoming reality.

A wise man once said "What lies before us and what lies behind us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us". Branksome is proof of this statement. In our past lie the traditions which our school is built upon, and the strides taken by all of the girls who have ever worn the green plaid kilt. Before us lie Branksome's bright future. However, what lies within Branksome are the 850 girls, proud in plaid, whose smiles, cheers and enthusiasm have always and will always make Branksome the great school that it is. Their spirit and dreams are the guiding force which propels our school to greater and greater heights each year. For at the end of each day, those girls leave that big ivy-covered building and night falls, but their spirit remains, the halls still echoing the laughter and cheers from that day.

The spirit of the people who make up Branksome is one of the strongest pillars upon which our school is built. When you look back on this year, remember all that you have accomplished. Remember all that you have learned, and the teachers and friends who have taught you so much. Finally, remember the power of your spirit and if nothing else, never stop reaching for your dreams!

Branksome, for all that you have taught me,
Thank you!
Sarah Psutka

Yearbook Editors

Kirsty Bruce and Fanny So

Letter to the reader:

The Slogan staff has put in many long hours and lots of hard work to produce this collection of the past school year's events. This school year has brought about many new changes. The Installation of the Principal was the kick-off to a new Branksome era. Aerobics at the Terry Fox Fundraiser was a great way to involve the whole senior school. We all put forth a lot of energy (and sweat) towards a good cause. Cheering at the surprise Clan Gathering was a fabulous re-introduction to clan spirit.

Following in the footsteps of the Prefects' motto, we have incorporated the school theme throughout this year's Slogan. This has given the Slogan staff an opportunity to use their creative talents in thinking up ways of presenting the theme throughout the book. We had fun using time quotes to express the theme uniformly throughout. There are other little hints of "time," so it is your job to keep your eye out for them.

This year we were lucky to have a large and dedicated group of hard workers. A new set of staff advisors were essential to the production of this yearbook. Thank you to Ms. Nguyen-Moreira, Ms. Thom, and Ms. O'Rourke. All the patience and long hours you've put into this book show in the quality of our work. Thanks very much to the Section Heads, Layout Artists, and Photographers (who got a great work-out chasing people around the school) for your devotion to Slogan '99! Special thanks to Jenn Holland for her creative art displayed on our division pages and the cover. Thank you to the student body in supporting us year round by submitting write-ups and bad hair-day photos. ON TIME ... ahem, you know who you are! It's been a ball! And now The Time Has Come for you to enjoy this year's Slogan 1999!

Sincerely,

Kirsty Bruce and Fanny So

CLAN PERFECT

THE STORY OF THE SUPERMODELS

Once upon a time in a little school called Branksome Hall, there lived eight supermodels! (Recall the first skit). Now, these were not just any normal YM super models living at good ol' BH, but a bunch of crazy and wacky girls who decided that instead of giving to a well known charity, they (as glamour queens of the world) would give to a less known yet, very important cause: CLANS. These super models worked all year to raise awareness and compassion for their well chosen and important charity. From a clan spirit week of tug-o-war, whip-cream, and a surprise clan gathering, to Winter Wonderland, these models worked their charity to stardom. They held a contests, the Electric Circus dancing with hot boys. They were a huge success. Everyone loved them, and loved giving to the important charity of CLANS.

The moral of the story is to help give like these supermodels did, and you will see the joy and feel the happiness and spirit that come with clans!

To the chieftains: Ade, Darci, Amanda, Pan, Vanessa, Meredith, Meg, and Margaret; and the mid-reps: Alanna, Jen, Jess, Katie, J.J., Jane, Emma, and Lauren — you were amazing. Clans would not be anywhere without your dedication and spirit.

To the school: keep trucking! Clans won't succeed without you. May the power be with you to keep the legacy of the super-models alive!

Dean of Students, Junior School, Miss Brough

As the old saying goes, 'la plus ça change, la plus ça reste la même'. I am struck this year by both the number of changes in the Junior School and the way in which it remains the same at heart - so warm and welcoming and full of students and staff who care about their school.

This year we have been privileged to welcome Design and Technology teacher Mrs. Murphy; grade 4 teachers Mr. McKenna and Mrs. Holychuk; grade 2 teacher Ms. Van Remortel; and Ms. Holstead in the library. Each has brought wonderful ideas, vitality and dedication to the job. We have also welcomed many, many new girls from the neighborhood; from across the city; from out of the country; from public schools and other independent schools. Each one has added her sparkle to life here. So while I sit at the same desk in the same office as I did eight years ago, I feel this year to be unique and full of wonderful "firsts".

I want to thank all those who keep the community strong and ever-new; our Junior School Prefect, the wonderful Liz Kirk; Miss Brough; the parents who volunteer so many hundreds of hours of their time; Mrs. Murton, who has jumped so enthusiastically into school life on both sides of the street; and most of all, the girls. To paraphrase the poet,

When love smiles and asks - who?
I answer- these girls, these girls.

One of the pleasures of being part of the Junior School is you never have time to "feel old!" The boundless energy, endless enthusiasm and spirit generated by the students from Grade One to Grade Six is truly amazing. Much of this can be attributed to our Grade Six leaders and our Junior School Prefect, Liz Kirk.

Grade Six leaders have taken an active and responsible role in organizing intramurals and clan activities. Liz has been innovative in presenting and following through with different ideas. Her bulletin board has been a welcome addition and we have looked forward to each month's theme. Primary students have enjoyed a very successful Big Sister-Little Sister exchange this year. My thanks to Liz and all of the Big Sisters.

Our co-curricular activities have been varied and well attended. Activities have ranged from Art to Ultimate and everything in between. I wonder if someone can come up with an activity beginning with "Z!"

Junior School Prefect, Liz Kirk

Cross the overpass and you will see
The Junior School is the place to be
The West Side girls, full of smiles and cheer,
Have made '99 such a great year.
Always involved in fun things to do
Games, contests and lipsynchs too
These girls have spirit and energy galore
Whatever they do, it's never a bore.
I've had a blast, a fantastic time,
Thanks to all the girls who inspired this rhyme.

What an absolutely amazing place the Junior School is! The contagious enthusiasm of the girls on the West Side make every day fun. The All-School Clan Gathering and the Big Sister-Little Sister events brought the Junior and Senior Schools together. These events, plus talent shows, themed assemblies and lunchtime activities, were great successes. Smiling faces and plenty of laughter made every visit memorable. I extend a huge thank you to all the very special people who helped and supported me this year! Mrs. Penny, the Grade 6 Clan Reps and especially Miss Brough and the Prefects. I couldn't have done it without you!

Good luck to everyone in the year 2000!

Love, Liz

Stratford-Upon-Avon

Dear Anne,

It was nice seeing you again. Anne, you should not come here. This is serious. We have a dangerous disease. It's called the Black Plague. I pray you never ever come here! London has germs, and germs, and germs! It is dreadful! It's contagious! My family had it and I had to take care of my family. My mother had the most of the Black Death. My father had the fleas. My sister had the boils. I DON'T want you to get it!

Sincerely, William, London.

The Nice Witch

Once there was a nice witch who wanted to do a good deed. "I don't know what I should do for a good deed," said the witch. "I know," chuckled the witch after a while, "I am going to feed the birds!" The next day she chopped some bread. She got on her broom and flew off. When she was at a park, she put out her hands and copied the guy beside her. The birds came to her and they all lived happily ever after.

Smudge

Saturday June 7th 1582

Dear Anne Hathaway,

April 23, 1564

It's Smudge's first day at school,
hop, hop, hop
Smudge finds paper,
nibble, nibble, nibble
The girls see Smudge,
chase, chase, chase
The girls pet Smudge
snuggle, snuggle, snuggle
Smudge sees the couch jump, jump, jump
Smudge gets snacks
spoiled, spoiled, spoiled
Smudge leaves the room
naughty, naughty, naughty
Smudge is tired
lazy, lazy, lazy
It's Smudge's first day at school!

Today is my wedding! I am marrying William Shakespeare. I can still remember Will asking me to marry him. He said "Anne Hathaway, you're as sweet as candy" at a ball. Will put a ring in my champagne glass. When the man passed the champagne I saw the diamond thing. When I got my champagne, by accident, I drank the ring. William knelt down on one knee and asked me to marry him and I whispered "yes". And here I am today getting married to William Shakespeare. Anne Hathaway.

I will not tell you my name until the end of this letter. I have been told that you are sneaky, so do not skip this important part. For years I have been lonely, that is until I met you. If your body traded with the most ugly girl in the world, I would still love you for your heart. Your heart is beautiful and nice. I love you Anne Hathaway. William S.

It was mid-April in the town of Stratford. One evening when John and I were lying in bed, I gave birth to a little baby boy. When John awoke, he found a little baby boy bundled up in the bed. I lay the baby on the blanket. John jumped up from the chair in which he was sitting and said "His name is William!" We hope the child will live longer than his sisters. Mary Arden Shakespeare.

Dear Diary,
Last night at the wedding the stars were shining. My dad and mom were crying. My ex-boyfriend was saying "Don't get married!" I don't care about him anymore. William was so handsome. He looked so magical and terrific. I think he is the most smartest man in the world. He is so romantic. Anne Hathaway.

From "Flowers of the Dance"

I strolled through the meadow, filling myself up with the smell of flowers and grass. A beautiful golden sun proudly shone soft beams of sunlight, illuminating the world. The grass seemed to stretch forever, until it met with the sky. Today the world was mine, down to the last speck of dust, peacefully floating.

Summer is the season of freedom. I remember someone had said that once, and it was true.

From "Millennium Encounter"

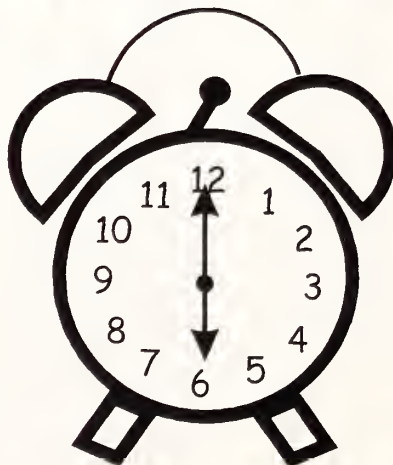

Kate closed her eyes for a short moment to make sure she wasn't dreaming. She suddenly felt her body shudder and start slowly shrinking. Kate saw the destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. She asked Spartan, "What year are we in?"

"We are in the year 1945," replied Spartan. Kate was horrified at the scenes of mass destruction of life and property. Her heart was filled with sorrow, while she realized the futile nature of war. She knew that human beings must live in peace if this world was to survive.

She saw the hole in the ozone layer. She also saw the oil spills and innocent children killed in the Gulf war.

Then suddenly they were back in the year 2000. Back in the tree where they started.

When Fall Arrived

When fall arrived
It tumbled into the world.
It came not suddenly
But you could notice it
At night when you pulled your covers higher,
In the day when you zipped your light jacket up,
When the leaves danced all around you
Like a storm.
Fall is like a spirit
It takes you over.

Where are my footsteps

Where are my footsteps?
I am lost forever.
My identity has vanished.
My sight has blurred away.
The language I speak is muddled up.
The ears I use have deafened.
My mind has run away.
I cannot smell sweet aromas.
I cannot feel the gentleness of friendship.
My footsteps are lost.

We watched spring arrive on our campus. We also sat in the outdoor classroom and looked at the trees surrounding us, while listening to the songs and calls of the birds. We went on hikes always looking for signs that animals had been here and we pulled garlic-mustard!

We go hiking, we see birds
We go on scavenger hunts
We learned a lot about nature
We made nature crafts
We cleaned the outdoor classroom up and remembered Mrs. Rosch.
We watched a magnificent movie called "Microcosm"
We made a nature mobile.
We made and ate a granola yogurt. "Yum"
We watched the seasons change
on our school property
We found the different trees on campus.
We had fun!

In basketball club we do a lot of fun stuff with Mr. McKenna and Candice. Candice is in the Senior School and helps Mr. McKenna teach us basketball moves. Our basketball club is a team and we also help each other out when we don't understand the game. In basketball club you have a lot of fun learning new moves and when you join you don't have to have any experience in playing the game. Sometimes Mr. McKenna asks another teacher at the senior school to let us play against another school and that is a lot of fun too. So anyone who wants to come and learn some basketball, just sign up and enjoy!

Basketball Team (Under 13)

The team had an excellent season finishing in third place overall. In the two games that the girls played the number one team they tied with and only lost the other game by two points. The only time they played the second place team it ended up being a tie game. The girls worked very hard and showed a lot of team spirit and enthusiasm. Congratulations on a great season!

"I can remember the first time I had to go to sleep. Mom said, "Steven, time to go to sleep." I said, "But I don't know how." She said, "It's real easy. Just go down to the end of tired and hang a left." So I went down to the end of tired, and just out of curiosity I hung a right. My mother was there, and she said "I thought I told you to go to sleep."

Assembly Club (2-6)

"There's no point in being grown up if you can't be childish sometimes."

—Dr. Who

This year for the first time a group of artistic young performers met every Wednesday after school to write and practice for Junior School assemblies. We conducted assemblies once a month. Each assembly had a different theme about which we sang, recited poetry and told stories. Many members became "lifelong," having joined at the very beginning! We had a wonderful year together.

Primary Drams (2-3)

"Sometimes I think the surest sign that intelligent life exists elsewhere in the universe is that none of it has tried to contact us."

—Bill Watterson, cartoonist

Through story and poetry this group created their own small group dramas. Some of what they made include perpetual motion machines, art galleries full of sculptures and car adventures. The humour and quick planning of the girls contributed to some memorable moments of play drama.

The Drama Club consisted of thirty versatile and accomplished performers. They worked from November to April on a production of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The show included songs sung to original music composed by Ms. Olfert. The actors contributed to all aspects of the production and learned that there is much more to acting than memorizing lines!

ANDERSON

MIDDLE DIVISION

A yearbook is a vivid chronicle of the people and events that combine to make lasting memories in the life of a school community. The excitement in the air when it finally arrives is unique in the school calendar.

Slogan '99 is a proud member of this tradition. In these pages you will find the faces of the friends and classmates who have shared your joys and triumphs. You will also find pictures of the teachers and staff whose commitment and dedication makes Branksome a model of educational excellence. Other pages feature fine student writing, beautiful art, and memories of special events. The welcome for Mrs. Murton, the all-school clan event, the teams, games, clubs, plays, dances, and much more are captured here.

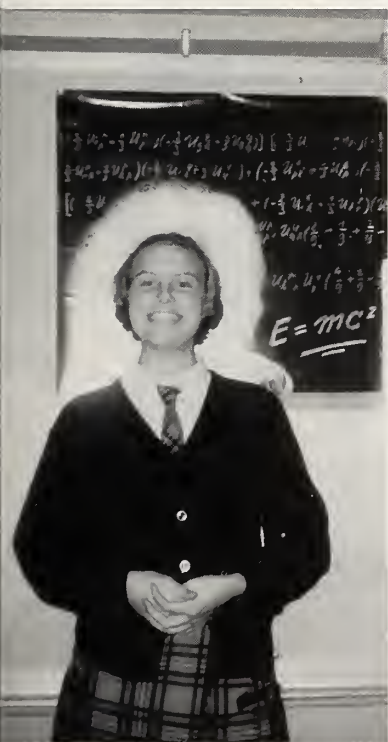

I am particularly proud of the contribution that the Middle Division has made to school life this year. Their energy and enthusiasm bounce off the pages of this book, and their caring was often an example for other students to follow. The girls from grade 7, 8, and 9 have worked hard to take responsibility for their community and their learning. They can be proud of their achievements. It has been a privilege to work with them in the Middle Division this year.

Congratulations to the editorial staff who have worked so diligently to produce this fine book. It will remind us of happy memories for years to come!

Dan Bickle
Interim Middle Division Coordinator

OUR FEARLESS LEADERS

It's new student orientation day at good old Branksome Hall;
Buccleuch House is over run with a hoard of grade sevens.
Grade eights and nines quickly catch on
And rampage the halls on the first day of school.

After BBQ's and breakfasts, each grade found their own.
With the help of Outward Bound, each grade grew together.
Grade nines had their very first "Rout" experience.
Grade eights practiced their moves for the Daddy Daughter Dance at "The Flare".
Later, the grade sevens would be let loose on a dance of their own.

All the while, Mr. Bickle learns much about the ways of Middle Division.
"Mid Div" chieftains sang away their troubles in winter holiday assembly,
And the "Mid Div" Reps worked hard in their areas of specialty.
Thanks to you all, your commitment and energy made this year amazing.

Now something from me to you 7's, 8's and 9's: You may be busted left, right and center
With uniform infractions and accused of being restless or way too energetic,
(These being excellent issues to bring to our new student council).
However, whatever they say, know this, that the Middle Division
Can beat them all in hockey!

Senior School

Head of Senior School

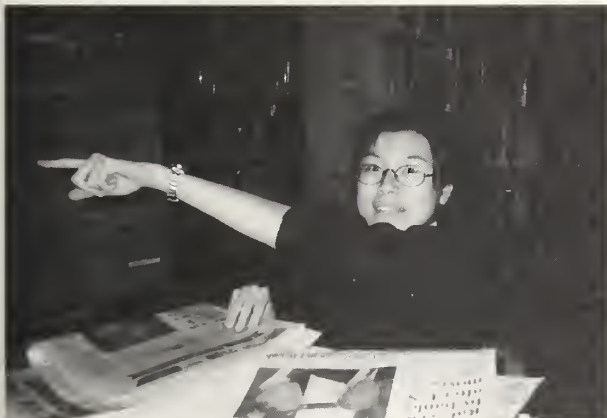

Once again this year's unique group of students, faculty and staff has coalesced into a thriving community, bursting with life. From good leaders to teamwork, spirit and hard work, there is much that goes into making a year successful. With energy and humour, you rose to the challenge presented in September and each one of you has helped make this year a memorable one.

Your classes have been alive with activity. And you've gone into the community; visiting the AGO and the Albright-Knox; hearing Nelson Mandela speak; spending a day in the courts; enjoying a French dinner or a Spanish lunch; attending the theatre at Stratford and Niagara-on-the-Lake, and exploring the eco systems at Albion Hills. You have competed with success in Writing, Debating, Public Speaking, Accounting, Mathematics, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, French, Spanish and Music.

Your life outside the classroom is as varied as it is important. An increasing number of you have been trained as peer counselors and are giving back to our community. You are involved in community service, many of you well beyond the required number of hours. Your participation in the Model UN in Montreal, your involvement in the World Affairs Conference and your affiliation with the Junior Achievement programme reach into the broader community. The Athletic Banquet helped you celebrate athletic achievements. The long hours spent by you and your coaches obviously afforded you much laughter and joy, and created vivid memories. At your recent "Celebration of the Arts," you saluted your accomplishments in a year filled with creativity: A Tale of Two Cities, She Stoops to Conquer, the art shows, the Winter and Spring Concerts, the Stage Band performing at the Father Daughter Dance, the String Orchestra performances, the music trip to San Francisco and "The Line is a Dot that went for a Walk."

September seems a very short while ago, and yet our year is over. Each one of us had a part in it and each of us will have our own memories. A special thank you to those of you who have worked on the production of the Slogan, creating this record of 1998/99, the last school year of this millennium.

How strange that these years should be drawing to a close. What I've learned, academically and socially, I'll carry with me for the rest of my life. Mommy, Daddy, Caroline, Nana and Portia, thank you for your love and guidance. My 3 dolls: Mandar, Miles and Jess; 'The group', Aly, Natty, Smal, Stuph, Stive, Sars, Mich, Banana, Craigeth, Em and all the others that made me laugh/cry/scream: I'm in debt to all you crazy cats for an unforgettable 5 years. Lest we forget the D.R ('95), parties, LillyFair, England ('98), Issues, Caffeine addictions, melodramas, Movies, quotes, notes, "Your Mother", (Gr 9) Eng, plays, harems, nicknames, teachers, rantsand kookiness. These, the best years of my life? I can see that, but does that mean I'm meant to have less fun in the future? Not a chance.

I have so many people to thank. To all my great friends: Pam (Mino - "parlez-vous anglais?", bus!), Ruth (the igloo & other bedtime stories), Linds (thesecretofthefro, Hippy New Year), Liz ("I don't beat round no bush", Hamlet's soliloquy), Leils (the "Capital", bus!), Natalia ("pardon me it's 11.03", "bon voyage" my "kindred spirit"), Darc (you're styling), Heath (latenightschasingthesub), and to the rest of the crew, you made me happy. To some former grads - Christena, Amy, Vanessa, Meg, Martha - you paved the way. To the Chieftains '98 - the Highland Fling and REALLY bad skits - you defined ridiculous. To all my teachers, you made me think; Mrs Shaver, Watson and entire English dept. - thank you. To all those who laughed at bad jokes, you had compassion. To my parents, you paid. I love you. Salut tout le monde!

The past two years at BH were full of experiences, excitement, happiness and hard work. I learnt, I participated, I grew up and most importantly, I enjoyed myself. The most unforgettable part of BH was life in residence. At times I hated the rules and restrictions but I loved the warmth, the friendships and the feeling that it was my home. Thanks Dad and Mum for your love and support, not only in these two years at BH, but throughout my life. You made me strong and confident, you coloured my life and made it wonderful.

Finally the most precious and memorable days have ended. First of all, I must thank-you mom and dad for supporting me throughout my life. Without you guys, I don't think I would have overcome all my conflicts and problems academically and emotionally. Mom, you're my hero!!! Then I must thank-you my best friends FaFa, Eliga, Carol, Becky C and Jenny (kay) for being with me and supporting me throughout my high school years. Having you guys as my friends is my most precise gift in life. Although all of us are living in different parts of the world I always feel very close to you guys because I know you guys are always there for me no matter what happens. Lastly thank-you all my friends at Branksome for helping me so much. I luv y'all! No matter what happens, "Keep Well The Road!!!!!!" Hope to see all of y'a in the future!!!! Anyway thanx again!!!

This is my 1st year in BH, also in Toronto. To me, everything is strange: new school, new environment, new teachers, new friends, and new life! Life is tough without family and friends. This is my 1st time to leave my family for one long year. The feeling is strange. I miss them so much! But, it is really a good time for me to learn independence. Thanx to my dad and mom and my brother for giving me their endless love. Thanx to my aunt and cousin for taking care of me. The support of my teachers and friends in HK is my energy to go through all difficulties. KKY, Vickie W, Chem Lam, Yuki and Tiffany K, Harbour, Tracy W, Jeffrey T, Tung-ming, Fan, my 'six sister' Thanx so much!

"The world is a stage but the play is badly cast." - O. Wilde
And now for those at Branksome who must be immortalized: Alex C (for sharing your madness with me), Carolyn C (for our eccentrics, Brits, revolutionaries and other dramatic personae), good friends Liz K, Anna FH, Leilah A. Thank you to debaters everywhere (and especially Jes W- "you are indeed a Wonder Woman!"). To my fellow actors/madwomen (for inspiring me), to my fellow prefects and the Arts Council (for your delightful antics) and to my teachers (for your guidance). I will remember you all when I've married some poor poet and am living in a garret. Mama and Papa - for filling my life with theatres, art galleries, books and your love, thank you. And Nicholas - my best friend and brother - ja tebe lyublyu. Cheers! Here's to the future!

"Memory is the diary that we all carry about with us." -Oscar Wilde. I'll always remember my days at Branksome. Can't believe I'm actually finished high school, I wonder what lies ahead? I've had good times and bad, but friends have always been there to help me along. B.C, shopping, movies, dreams, guys, ribbons+flowers, you're so smart!, C.C, driving(stopped in mid of sherbne!), hair, punching, planting trees, sushi, laughing, you scare me so much!, Y.C. folding stars, studying, T.H. first friend at BH, dorm, food, J.C.latin, oasis, formal, choir and H.D, M.S, G.L, A.W, J.P. I'll always remember you. Keep in touch! Thanx to all my teachers! Above all, I want to thank my family. Thanks for all your support, love, and patience! Mom, Dad, and Bonny, I love you so much! Couldn't have made it without you!

Wish You Were Here

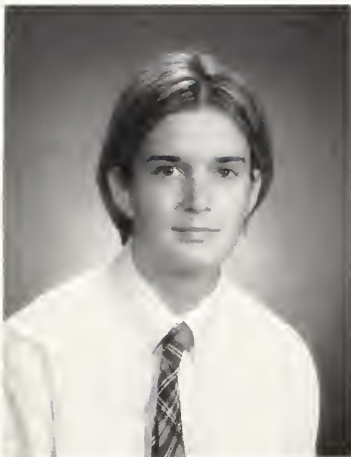

"So, so you think you can tell, heaven from hell, blue skies from pain.

Can you tell a green field, from a cold steel rail, a smile from a veil, do you think you can tell?

Did they get you to trade your heros for ghosts, hot ashes for trees, hot air for a cool breeze, cold comfort for change did you exchange, a walk on part in a war for a lead role in a cage?
How I wish, how I wish you were here, we're just two lost souls swimming in a fish bowl year after year, running over the same old ground what have we found?

The same old fears, wish you were here." - Pink Floyd
To all the friends who have ever touched my life.

Adam & Dad, I love u. Mom, u will always be in my heart.

Grade six still fresh in my mind, I can't believe I've been here for 8yrs. Nvr forget my extended fr. class buds(St. Donat, Hendo, Plastina's bye party, King Tut!, Berks, Anne Frank nightmares, coo-koo), Extracurrics & sports kept me sane (golf team?, sailing, Les and synchro, pub crew, Moe and Joe do tennis, crazy gr12 gym). To my lunch buds: where shall we eat today? Eaton's shopping (when will it end?! Can we hit Lime Ricks yet?) Get out the markers Dan, Bird's talk'n again, oops, I transposed! Hey sub bud, Dan R. u going to Jorkmills today?! Mmm, where do I want to go this weekend? To be, or whatever. Good Luck, it's not good-bye we say but so long see you again, see you again some day. Thanks to all. "The reward of a thing well done, is to have done it" - Ralph Waldo Emerson.

I've led a double life in BH during these 2 yrs: life in school and life in res. Study'g and liv'g in the same place ! What an experience! Till now, I'm proud to be at Branksome since I've learnt the most in these 2 yrs, encounter'g ups and downs, love and hate, joy and misery. 'Some people come into our lives and quickly go, some stay for awhile and leave foot-prints on our hearts, and we are never, ever the same.' For me, there is always a place for this piece of precious memory in my suitcase. Though unwillingly, 'the time has come', its time for me to start the journey ahead. So, just want to send my warmest blessings to people I've encountered these 2 yrs. Thank you list...OK: Dad and Mom, your support is enormous! BH teachers, thanks for your inspiration!! Friends...(I bet u know who u're) thank for your support!!! :)

Well, I've served my eight years. I guess it makes my release all that much sweeter..muwahaha :) The memories and friends are everlasting. Couldn't do it without the support of a few billion people; Mom, Dad, Adam, Matthew, Grandpa, Grandma, Grandma, Molson, Minette and all the rest. The ever faithful grade six crew and those who became the "up top the gym" people. Shouts hello to all my graduating and non-fleeing friends. A special hug and kiss go out to Leilah, Aly and Liane, who I hope understand how much they mean to me. 'Member New York, England, lunch time games, Leilah lack of caffeine rants and rants in general? Branksome has been an experience that will never be forgotten in my mind, good and bad included. For all that they've done for me, thank you teachers. If you're lucky, I might actually miss you all :)

REFLECTIONS ON COMMUNICATION:

Words strain, crack and sometimes break, under the burden, under the tension, slip, slide, perish, decay with imprecision, will not stay in place, will not stay still.

-T.S. Eliot; Four Quartets 'Burnt Norton'

Language is the dress of thought.

-Samuel Johnson; Lives of the English Poets

'Then you should say what you mean,' the March Hare went on. 'I do,' Alice hastily replied; 'at least I mean what I say - that's the same thing you know.' 'Not the same thing a bit!' said the Hatter. 'Why you might as well say that "I see what I eat" is the same thing as "I eat what I see!"

-Lewis Carroll; Alice's Adventures in Wonderland

The year's assemblies have been entertaining, sometimes uncensored, often bizarre, no doubt, but always creative. Mr. Gerow, I owe much to your tireless efforts. Thank you to the performers and audience alike. Never lose respect for the power of words.

It's been wild,
Alex

Admission's Prefect: Ashley Gorrie

First of all I would like to thank all of the tour guides for helping me so much this year. It has been a really good year. Tours have increased by 25% this year which is really amazing. I appreciate all the help everyone gave the admissions department. Mrs. Weinstock, Ms. Colwell and Mrs. Kirth, this year has been really fun. Thank you once again to everyone.

The Time Has Come

Community Service Prefect: Emily So

From visiting Fudger House to caroling at hospitals, and from selling antlers at the Santa Claus Parade to helping the United Way, the possibilities are endless.

Every year, Branksome students fulfill their part in helping out their community by doing at least five hours of volunteering. These minimum five hours of community service are completed through grade events planned in grade meetings and students signing up for posted opportunities for volunteering at local community centres or churches. Students this year have widened the range of volunteering placements. Here is a glimpse of what Branksomites have been involved in this year: raising money for Ronald MacDonald House, helping out at the Villa Columbo Bazaar for Seniors, taking care of children at the North Toronto Chinese Baptist Church, decorating for a fundraising ball for the Children's Own Museum, delivering promotional pamphlets for the Goodwill Clothing Drive, tutoring children at local schools, sorting food at the Food Bank, cleaning up and cooking at a women's shelter.....

It has been a fulfilling, productive year. Keep up the enthusiasm and energy! Love, Emily!

Where were you that misty night
When the land caressed the sky
And the PAC flickered...
Do you (have) social-eyes?

Where were you when first your eye
I eyed? That dreamy night
Of sweaty palms and awkward stares
That flushed my anxious face...
Do you (have) social-eyes?

Did you dance the night away
That steamy night
Full of fizzy Sprite and Barq's has BITE...
Do you (have) social-eyes?

Design Studio

Every Wednesday after school Design Studio meets to discuss fashion and design. Our many ideas included embroidery, beadwork, fabric painting, recruiting of old garments, and creating new ones. We also had trips and excursions around Toronto within the fashion district. Throughout the year we also focused on building portfolios and preparing of university interviews and applications for girls interested in the fashion and fine art fields.

As a new club this year, we've accomplished many things. We've learned how to build web pages, improved the school's Intranet, and put the Kilt Press online, to name a few. This club was formed to help people learn more about computers, but most of all, to have fun. We'd like to thank everyone for a great year, especially Ms. O'Rourke for putting up with us. Have a great summer everyone, and we hope to see you next year.

Writer's Guild

Head: Cathy Leekam

"All my possessions for a moment of time" —Elizabeth I, last words (1603)

Writer's Guild is a club for those who enjoy literature and writing, and also for those who just want to drop in occasionally to meet the school's talented writers. We meet every week to share personal and published pieces of writing, and to discuss ways to make Branksome more aware of writing within the school and in the wider community of Toronto. Every year we publish Perennial, a compilation of writing and art by girls at Branksome. Writer's Guild is also affiliated with the Arts Council, and many club members participate in the various art shows and performances which take place throughout the year. —Cathy

Women's Issues is an open forum for conversations on topics that Branksomites feel are important to them as women in a changing society. We've tried to guide our topics of discussion away from eating disorders and image issues this year, preferring instead to either look at specific instances closer to the Branksome community (ie. Cigar and Scotch Night) or news items about the new role of women in a global context. The Women's Issues club also actively attempts to promote awareness and raise funds for female oriented causes. During breast cancer month in October, the club thought about fund raising opportunities and we eventually got November's grub day money allocated for breast cancer research. Take Back the Night with Song, which was a great success last year, will be held again, and the proceeds will go to another charity. — Leilah Ambrose

Public Affairs keeps the student body informed of current events occurring all over the world. This year we had a very exciting year. In November we went to the Model UN in Montreal. We spent a lot of time organizing WAC (The World Affairs Conference held at UCC) and had a lot of fun with Speakers Corner plus much more. It was a busy but fun year. Thanks to all. —Bronwyn Corlett

Hello, from the different cultures that make up the Multicultural Society! Our meetings have been both fun and busy with the planning of our biggest event, the Infusion. Infusion was organized by the Multicultural Society and was held at Branksome. It was a gathering of most of the private schools where students perform their cultural dances, songs, and poems. One of the highlights of the event was the delicious foods from around the world. Infusion was a success! While busy planning for projects, we also had our traditional pot lucks which gives us a chance to taste foods from different cultures. Besides feasting on different foods, we watched foreign movies and learned many things from them. We had a fantastic year!

This year's been fantastic with all the new events and clubs happening at Branksome. What got me nervous and excited was starting this Dance Club. I've never done something like this before and I have to admit it was challenging and confusing, but we made it through the year. Our main goal was to make this club for experienced as well as inexperienced dancers, just so that people can have lots of fun learning different dances. And we did have fun hip hopping, jazzing, swinging, cha-chaing . . . and doing things in assembly. I really have to thank Mrs. Bennett for her support and help, without her I would have probably had a nervous breakdown.) Thanks to all the wonderful dancers for making this club successful. I hope that you all have a great summer and I'll see you next year! Remember: Practice, Practice, Practice!*)

Composer's Anonymous

Composer's Anonymous is a new club at Branksome that was created to provide a forum for songwriters to meet, and share ideas. The club meets once a month for two hours, and has a very relaxed atmosphere. Ms. Olfert is the staff advisor for the club and offers the songwriters many helpful suggestions to improve their work. The club showcases their songs throughout the year in "coffee house" style concerts. There is so much musical talent at Branksome, and through this club we hope to share it with the rest of the Branksome community.

—Golda Meir, quoted by Oriana Fallaci in L'Europeo (1973)*

An important part of the successful running of a school like Branksome is an effective student government. Our Student Council is a great example of what student government should be. We are made up of all the advisor reps, heads of clubs and societies, grade reps, and prefects. Throughout this year, we have asked the student body to "Lean on Us" and all of the reps have worked hard to represent their groups. This is an amazing bunch of girls, who have worked very hard to make Branksome the best that it could be. They have huge amounts of spirit and enthusiasm, and a whole lot of pride in their school. Every other Wednesday at lunch there was always a lively discussion in Rm 212, and we have accomplished a lot. Thank you to all of the council!!! You have led Branksome well this year. Keep up with those dreams and ideas. Remember: The people who are crazy enough to think that they can change the world are the ones who do!!!

Wow!! What a year! I can't believe that Student Life accomplished so much in such a short period of time! First of all, let me say congratulations to the student leaders and staff members involved in Student Life this year. Each of you has left your mark in making Branksome Hall "the best girls' school in Canada." From solving issues like the lighting outside the library to attempting to control the infamous garbage problem, the Student Life members have always shown commitment and persistence. Although we were a very large group this year, our communication with each other was never an issue. Since we were all in this together, together we achieved more. My hope is that Student Life has served the students and staff at Branksome Hall well as an outlet through which they can be sure their voices are heard and can make a difference. I hope that student government has satisfied your needs this year and that we have provided you with a means to communicate your thoughts and concerns within the school.

Thank you for such a successful year Student Life!!

It has been a year of French revolutionaries, symphonies in G major, dazzling dance numbers, new artists performing each week in assembly, an Arts page in the Kilt Press, lines and dots, and I know not what else. I hope that you all enjoyed it as much as I did.

My sincerest thanks to Mrs. Phelan and all of the arts teachers for your guidance throughout the year. To the arts council: you have been a positively delightful group; your creativity and collective sense of humour have been a pleasure to work with. I will miss the madness of our Thursday meetings. To those who have painted, performed, composed, or beheld, I am indebted to you. There are many artistic souls within our school - may they continue to create work that is lively and intelligent, and which inspires thought in the beholder.

THE WORLD'S SHORTEST STORIES

Life: Dash of This, Little of That

The Earth waited.
Temperature stood fast,
Gases paused mid-air,
Even the Sun held its flames suspended for the moment,
sensing the interlude.
The Sea lay perfectly flat.
Finally, when all felt they could not hold themselves any longer,
Lightning plunged upon them.
Then, a tiny atom was made.
The Earth sighed.
Mankind was coming.

Beauty is in the Eye of the Beholder

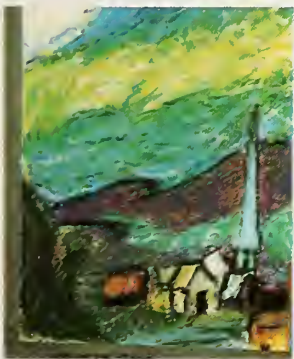

Priceless.
The coin glittered gloriously.
Was it a Spanish specie, a golden guinea, or a precious piece of eight.
She gazed greedily at the golden coin.
Finally temptation triumphed.
Reaching out tentatively, she took the tempting treasure.
Reverently, she removed the golden wrapper, before, devouring the delicious chocolate coin.
Priceless.

Ropes cut the skin at my wrists and ankles. The town, gathered below me, chants.
"Witch"
I am condemned.
"Burn her"
Sentenced.
The flame approaches the straw at my feet, and the people glow with anticipation.
Smiling shyly and weightless, I rise off the platform.
Fools, to think these ropes could hold me.

Temptation

She eyes it, knowingly.
There's a fatal attraction. She's drawn to it.
But what if . . ? she thinks, Maybe this one will be different . . . She states, although she questions.
She knows it's wrong,
it's bad,
but there is that urge . .
that need . .
that hunger.
By now whe's drawn too near and . .

"Often words cannot convey the message, and perhaps this is such an occasion for me. However, I will try my best to acknowledge the tremendous honour that has been bestowed upon me this morning. As I stated to the students in assembly yesterday morning, the position of Principal of Branksome Hall is truly one of the most important events in my life; consequently, this event is of great significance to me. With honour goes responsibility and I recognize that the responsibility to lead Branksome Hall is indeed a great challenge and a great opportunity. It is both my responsibility and commitment to continue the traditions of academic excellence, and school pride that are the cornerstones of this school. This is a challenge that I greet with enthusiasm and confidence ... It is because of the people who are gathered here this morning that I say this.

For as I look in the audience I see the people who have helped and supported me — Family and friends who have played a significant role in my life ..."

"... I know that the alumnae, the parents, and the current and past members of the board possess a tremendous loyalty and love for Branksome Hall. Thank you for honouring me with your presence today. And perhaps this is really what events such as this are all about — our associations and our relationships with people. It is people themselves who give heart and soul to make things happen and support each other. I am grateful and honoured by the support and comments from you, Tony, and Sarah. To Anne Wilson and the group that assisted you — thank you for your outstanding effort and work to make this morning happen. This is certainly a morning that I will always remember"

Dans le métro

Les yeux montent et tombent
Ils dansent, petits oiseaux innocents
Captivés par le monde nouveau.
En un instant tendu, deux regards s'attachent l'un à l'autre
Ils s'attardent juste un moment
Et puis prennent vol,
Folâtrant parmi les ombres.

Les Secrets de la Mer Rouge

Au fond de la mer est un monde inconnu,
Labyrinthe exotique, coléreux et calme.

Le corail pointu protège le monde,
Rouge comme cerise ou blanc comme perle.
Les cavernes mystérieuses sont sombres comme la nuit,
Avec des passages interminables.
Ensuite, des poissons,
Oranges, jaunes, turquoises ou dorés.
Puis, des tortues sages et douces comme velours,
Et plusieurs épaves pleines de trésors anciens.

Finalement, des chuchotements ou même le silence,
Qui hantent un bleu immense.

Adieu le Soleil

Il se lève avec le soleil
La boule de feu.
Il est ravi de son soleil-son feu
Il suit sa beauté
Il crée son feu à lui
Il en est consumé. Le danger- les bruits
Les couleurs l'embrassent et le réchauffent.
Le soleil l'appelle, il le suit
Il s'enflamme, son coucher approche
Son feu s'éteint.

Le Temps

Je connais, mais je ne sais pas.

Je l'utilise.
Je le tue.
Je l'embrasse.
Je le déteste.
Le temps m'aide et le temps me blesse,
Il cause des dégâts.
Je le partage.
Je le donne.
Je le prends.
C'est un ami et un ennemi.
Je ne possède pas le temps.
Le temps ne me possède pas.
Le temps.

Je connais, mais je ne sais pas.

Jenn Bell

Le rêve

Il a les cheveux de rayons
De bleu, orange, jaune et violet.
Il a un nez rouge
Qui fait du bruit quand on le presse.
Il est très grand
Aux pieds énormes,
Mais il conduit une voiture
Extrêmement petite.
Il fait des tours mystérieux.
Quand on jette une tourte à son visage
Il est heureux.
Quand je le regarde
J'éclate de rire.
Je veux avoir
La vie d'un clown.

The Time Has Come

It's Time for Writing!!!

These first two pieces are inspired from a soliloquy from Macbeth

Borne Kinsman,
inventor of justice and ambition;
Alike heaven's angels,
couriers of trust.
His great deed and strong intent bear deep ingreience of virtues.
But,
these instructions hath not success upon his own babe.
Being taught assassination commends poisoned plague of even-handed damnation;
sightless consequence only plead horrid deed.
Bloody spur tears eye and lips quickly surcease life and time.
Pity on judgement so meek.

Sophie Lai

Here it was Done

The surcease of his conscience, is the success of his ambition.
The be-all and end-all of even-handed judgement,
plague his virtues and poison all trust.
The horrid instructions still return in his eye.
His tears, like those of a new-born babe,
fall upon the shoal of heaven.
The pleading of angels,
and the pity of the trumpet-tongued, shall drown his faculties deep into the bank of damnation.
The door is shut against the sightless couriers of the great office.
Here it was done,
The bloody knife hath borne this murderer.

Childhood's Innocence - Man's Greatest Gift

The orator's shrine, a Canadian Tire portable throne, was rained with lovedrops. He epitomized the eternal doorstop to the gates of prejudice - black or white, inside or out, to him an oreo cookie was just that. His world, hung in white cloths with silver pins, was free of suffering.

The Peace of War

The bombs sound like thunder and the blasts light up the sky.
The people scream and the babies cry. Death, destruction, and defeat lurk around every corner. Sunlight doesn't cheer the frowning faces or dry the shedding tears. Again, the chaos, the bloodshed, the hate.
Then.....silence. It's Christmas Day.

A Quick Dip

She dipped her feet into the cool Atlantic Sea. She followed the waves out until she touched the ground no more. She dunked her head, but felt as though she were being pulled down. She struggled, she gasped and furiously she threw her arms about. She took her final breath.

Beach Games

The predator glides silently onto the shore and fills every sandy crevice with its salty skin. I watch nervously as it draws nearer. It wants my toes.
Closing my eyes I feel the sharp cold claws sink into my feet. My eyes close. I am inside the blue beast;

What a Turn Around!

The atmosphere was electric.
The Junior Championship hung in the balance.
There were only seconds to play.
The crowd was on their feet.
Suddenly, Seamus had the ball.
With dazzling dexterity, amazing adroitness, and superior skills
a goal was in sight.
He kicked; the ball soared then careened into his own net.
Shameful Seamus!

Senior Choir

yum-yum-yum-yum-yah 2x ...

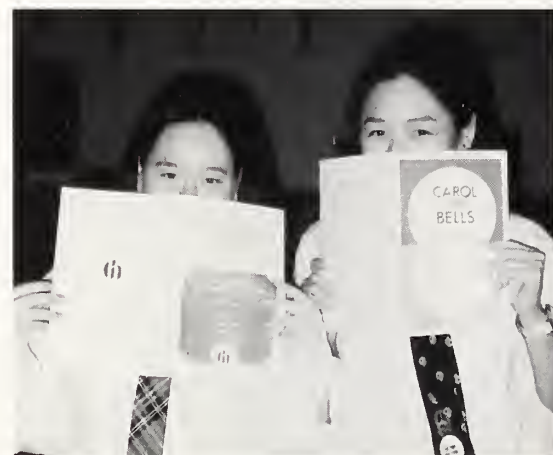

Besides the tongue-twisting warm-ups and the essential shoulder massages, the choir performed many wild and wonderful activities. We ka-ka-kalinked in a circle, we hay-and-a-hoed in the spring, we ding-dong, ding-donged in the snow, and we figaroed in a maze of do-be-do-be-dos. What a busy year from Grandparents' Day, to the Carol Service, to San Francisco.

Of course, none of this would have been possible without the members who helped set up and stack up chairs and put away the music. Many thanks to our accomplished accompanist, Ms. Olfert, for interjecting bubbles of laughter here and there, to Ms. Lewis who livened us up with strange and interesting warm-ups and finally Mr. Bickle for his tolerance with the choir and its fluctuating members during practice, and not to mention THE BOX.

Thanks for a funtabulous year!

After a change of name, the former wind ensemble, also had an instrumental change this year. This year, Chamber Winds consisted of only clarinets and flutes. We played at the spring and winter concerts, the music trip and an occasional assembly. Many thanks to Mrs. Reynolds and everyone who joined this year.

What a group to have in my last year! Motivated, usually moderately awake, although I'm not sure whether certain people ever figured out if we started at 7:30 or 8:15, but when it came down to it, we could pull anything together. Plays, San Francisco, seasonal concerts. Personal milestones for some, but accomplished as a group. A huge thanks to Mrs. Reynolds, Captain Kirk to our Enterprise. Thank you for keeping us focused and entertained. I hope next year will be half as great as this year was.

Thanks to everyone who came out to Concert Band this year. The ensemble had an amazing year. This year, Concert Band changed from being an ensemble open to those in grades 7-9 to an ensemble for those in grades 8-10. The response was terrific. Everyone worked so hard, and we had so much fun. It was great getting to know all of you. I had a blast. Hope everyone has a good summer, and I'll see you in the fall.

To Conquer

With all the chaos and activity that goes on during the school year it is gratifying that students have the time to commit themselves to after-school activities. Drama is one of those activities where the word "commitment" alone does not do justice. It requires major time, major drive, and major dedication. Out of all this, students leave the stage feeling a tremendous sense of accomplishment and marvel at the fact that they'll be home while it's still light out. With two more plays under our belts, middle division drama and theater sports, we've had a busy productive year... thanks to everyone who has made it so memorable.

-Lauren Phillips (Head of Drama)

SPORTS WITH RUTH!

ATHLETES WORLD

"Shucks!" she said,
"I'm benched...
So much for being a
Heavy-hitting, big shooting
Jersey-wearing Scot!"

I'm just going to hang up my sneakers
Dump out the gatorade
You know-
Throw in the Towel!"

"Well hold on there #22
Why is it that you're so blue?
Don't you know what Nike said--
Better to be down than dead!
So wipe those tears right off your face
Tie up your shoes, go win that race.
Or at least give it your best shot."

"You know what coach,
I think you're right
I'm going to fight the long good fight.
And rage against the dying of the light
At least until the buzzer goes."

And so, dear reader, the moral is clear
Without you coaches, we wouldn't be here.
And as for sports, what can I say,
You've made my each and every day.

Track & Field

Well, Track '98 was a blast. Our team was small but we still had an amazing season and lots of fun. Our meets were full of memories: from mock relays, to hurdling and falling and bruising elbows. From early morning practices, to begging to go to St. Mike's or just not bothering to show up at all. Thanks to Ms. Nauboris, Mrs. Bennett, Ms. Nguyen and Missy, for encouraging us to do what we thought we could not. Whom without we could not have done so well at CI's. Well, what can we say, but, "YUP THAT'S IT!"

The Athletic Council

The Athletic Council is composed of the students who have attended seminars at the Ontario Educational Leadership Center. This is the Athletic Council's inaugural year. Throughout the year we have been busy organizing intramural events. The kick-off event this year was a huge success. A teacher representative was chosen for each grade from 7-GY. The teacher was duct taped to the gym wall and the teacher who stayed on the wall the longest was declared the winner. The grade 8's were the "Duct Tape Queens" with Miss Stegenga staying on the wall for the longest amount of time.

Dean of Residence Mrs. Smith

Boarding school life can be both challenging and rewarding. The challenge lies in the effort needed to create a caring and family-like community. The Residence Dons, Ms. Chapell, Ms. Cudney and Ms. Hunter under the direction of Sr. Residence Don, Ms. McCormick work tirelessly through the year to this goal.

The residence staff also works in conjunction with student leaders to ensure the program meets the needs and interests of the boarders. The Residence Prefect, the Junior Dons and the Heads of House have successfully presented orientation, theme dinners, special outing and events and the day girl/boarder exchange with their creative energy.

The rewards lie in the personal growth that the students experience and in the deep and abiding friendships that develop. Living in a community with students from around the world is not always easy. It takes compassion and understanding to learn that people are unique. Our residence students are supportive and caring of one another and value each other's differences and rights. They work hard and set high standards for learning and achievement.

Thank you to all the members of the residence community for a wonderful year. Best wishes to all of the GY students and your plans for the future. We will miss you. To the returning girls, have a safe and happy summer and we look forward to next year!

Mrs. Smith

DONS of Residence

What a fun and exciting year we have had in residence! It seems like only days ago that we were greeting all of the new girls, showing them their rooms, and helping them to adjust to Branksome life. Our job was made easier by all of our returning girls, who were so friendly and welcoming, and by our amazing Residence Council. Thanks to Vienna Lee for all her hard work, and for making this year enjoyable for all of us. We couldn't have done it without you!

Together we have enjoyed events such as: a trip to Canada's Wonderland, ice skating, Thanksgiving, Halloween, Christmas, and Easter dinners, Festival of Lanterns and Chinese New Year. And of course, we can't forget the famous residence water fight, witnessed by Mrs. Murtion herself! We enjoyed having many guests during our day girl/boarder exchanges, and have been pleased that others have joined us as bed-and-breakfast students.

GY's — we will miss your phones ringing incessantly at 3:00 am and your smiling faces and sunny dispositions as we wake you up at 8:39 am. We wish you well in your demerit-free university years, and know that you will wear some form of plaid every day for the rest of your life.

Returning Girls — have a fun, relaxing summer, and we look forward to seeing you again in a few short months.

Remember, we will be relying on you to help the new residence girls learn where to order the best take-out sushi, how to get the perfect amount of heat in their rooms (by the open-window method) and how to keep the kitchens spotless.

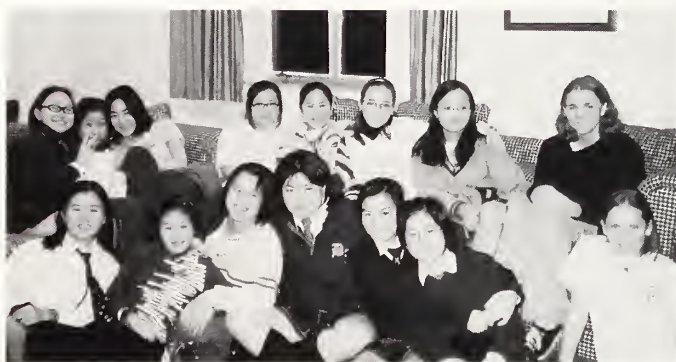

We will miss you all. It has been wonderful living with you, and we know that you will all succeed in whatever you try — at Branksome, at university, and in the rest of your lives. Don't forget Branksome, because we certainly won't forget you!

Love the Dons,

ENCE

Prefect

In my three years in Residence at Branksome, I have witnessed a huge transformation. From our dearest Miss Northgrave, to Ms. Loblaw and Mrs. Smith, the three Deans of Residence have given their best to make residence life fantastic. Thanks a dozen!

This year, our Senior Don, Ms. McCormick and the other three Dons, Ms. Chapel, Ms. Cudney, Ms. Hunter as well as our GAP student from England, Ms. Helen Gray have committed all their energy to make this year's residence a huge success. Thank to all the Dons, Junior Dons, and Heads of House for your support and energy. I can tell you how lucky I am to have had all of your precious time and brain cells in making this year possible. Everything has been terrific! The Day Girl-Boarder Exchange was incredible! We had five times more people participating in the exchange this year.

This year, we tried some new things in the residence. We had our first ever Residence Orientation Day. This September was the craziest but we continue to have fun parties almost twice a week! Don't forget the wonderful times at Wonderland, Metro Zoo, Mrs. Smith's house and finally our terrific dinner parties with our guest!! Besides food and fun, this year, we had the chance to have BOYS on campus! Our 'Brothers' Kyle and Lee, as well as the cutie Michael Murton.

Last but not least, thanks to all my peers and to the prefects for your support and care. Without you, Residence 98-99 could never have been one of the BEST years! Good luck and keep up the FUN!!!

Barbara Healey leaves Branksome Hall after twenty- seven years having worked with four principals as a teacher, Head of Guidance, Vice- Principal of Academics, Acting Head of the Junior School and Head of the Senior School. The variety and complexity of her roles tell us about her capabilities as an educator. Her legacy at Branksome will be the fairness and wisdom with which she has guided many generations of students.

Over the time Ms. Healey has been at Branksome, the school has grown in size and facilities and the programme and technology have evolved. Ms. Healey's logical, clear- thinking mind has been a part of these developments and her guidance skills have resolved countless problems enabling the school to run smoothly and harmoniously. According to Ms. Healey, " It's the people at Branksome who make the school unique, it's the excitement they bring each year." Just as there have been no two years alike for Ms. Healey, we can in turn say, that she has no duplicate. We wish her well and shall miss her.

Karrie Weinstock

After working in industry and teaching for a short time in the public school system, Vesna Davidovac arrived at Branksome in 1970 where she immediately became a valued member of the science department. In teaching her specialities of senior chemistry and general science, she was deeply committed to both the welfare and academic progress of her students. For a number of years she was Head of Science , a job she conducted both cheerfully and efficiently. Over the years, her extracurricular activities included being the advisor of the photography club and of the science club, as well as being chair of the school's Safety Committee. Her colleagues will long remember her wonderful sense of humour and her readiness to support anyone who needed help. Vesna's great love and knowledge of film often surprised those who did not know her well; her enthusiasm for the arts also carries over into classical music and she reads a wide variety of literature and non- fiction. She is also very much involved with her extended family attending to their comfort and interests. Every Spring Break, she and her husband flew off to visit some warm place (where she often took her marking). Now, she can enjoy the vacation without the paperwork! We wish her a well- deserved and happy retirement.

Pat Moore left BHS for the second time last June. She was a full-time nurse for six years ending in 1980 and has been back at school for the last six years on a part- time basis. Pat's great sense of humour and good nursing helped to make the Health Centre a fun place to be. Her love and knowledge of computers were definitely an asset. We wish you well Pat, as you pursue your many interests.

With the retirement this year of Mme Bayly-Nuzum, Branksome is saying farewell to a much respected and loved, caring and dedicated educator - one whose deep commitment to the profession has had a profound influence on staff and students alike. The early years of Mme Bayly's career saw her serve at a number of schools throughout the Province. In mid-career she spent a year studying at Laval in Quebec City where she was imbued with an appreciation for the culture and the French-Canadian way of life. Mme Bayly worked in business for several years, including a nine-year stay in Ireland. Returning to Canada, her anxiety about resuming her teaching career was allayed by the sense of joy she encountered at Branksome and by the generous and unstinting help she received from her colleagues. Among her many distinguished contributions to Branksome as Head of Modern Languages, Mme Bayly has been in charge of annual exchanges with schools in Quebec and France and trips to Quebec; preparing students for the Concours d' art oratoire d' Ontario; Director, for ten years, of the Toronto French language contest; and instrumental in fostering our highly successful extended French programme. Mme Bayly is leaving behind a rich legacy at Branksome. We wish her and her husband a happy and long life together in their home in Ireland.

Au revoir, Judy, et merci!

Jana Berka

Heather Hockin's sense of humour, flexibility, patience and enthusiastic approach to technology have been so evident throughout her 15 year career at Branksome. Her sense of humour certainly came through on first seeing the "computer room"; one Apple computer located in a third floor closet in Read Acres. Through Heather's perseverance, quiet cajoling and vision, the number of computers rapidly increased and the programme in the Junior School took flight. During the 15 years Heather and her computers have had 4 locations. For two years Heather was located on the east side, where the room allocated looked more like an obstacle course, for Heather had to cover the floor with orange pylons so that little feet didn't trip. Heather coached the Under 13/14 softball teams for 12 years. Her encouraging words and batting technique made for many successful seasons.

When asked the advantages of taking early retirement, Heather quickly replied, lowering her golf score, visiting her children more often (John and Carrie '90) and best of all, travelling during term time! Heather admits the one thing she will miss is the involvement with children; if that does happen we think that the local school in Dwight may just get her on a voluntary basis. We extend to Heather and David many wonderful years ahead. We know that a little bit of Heather's heart will remain at Branksome. Our best wishes to a dear friend, colleague and teacher.

When Susie Farkas arrived at Branksome Hall in 1989 to become Head of the Family Studies/ Fashion Arts Department it was Branksome's gain. After graduating from Ryerson Polytechnical Institute and Toronto Teacher's College with a specialist teaching certificate in Home Economics, Ms. Farkas embarked on a most successful teaching career in both North York and Branksome. She has expanded the program to include Fashion Arts and has integrated computer technology into the curriculum.

In her educational career, she has also worked diligently outside the classroom. Ms. Farkas was involved in the planning, designing, and sewing of costumes for many school productions. She was influential in starting the Design Club for Branksomites. Ms. Farkas was also a staff advisor of the Slogan for five years, spending many a Sunday planning and proofing pages. She contributed to many of Branksome's committees: the Co-Curricular Arts Committee, the Health and Safety Committee, the Academic Advisory Committee, and the Academic Integrity Committee are only a few to be mentioned.

Thank you, Ms. Farkas, for your ten years of energy and enthusiasm for the Family Studies and Fashion Arts programs. We wish you much happiness in your retirement as you pursue your interests of travelling, interior design, golf, cooking and enjoying yourself with your family at your chalet in Collingwood.

"Keep well the road, Susie!"

Nancy Northgrave

Retiring is not a word I would use to describe Judith Phelan. By definition, one who retires is one who withdraws or gives up work. By definition, Judith is one who will never stop working at something stimulating, creative, and inspirational. Judith is leaving Branksome because she has decided to devote all of her time to the many things which she is passionate about. The Siena Art School is now in its seventh year, a new (old) camper van will take Judith around North America and Mexico in search of the visual stimuli she needs to do her own art work, and, of course, her family and many friends for whom she always has time and energy will continue to be a life force and focus.

Judith has been at Branksome since 1985 and has taught art to students from grades four to OAC. Judith was also involved in designing sets and costumes for Junior School productions, and most recently headed the Co-curricular Arts Committee which has played an active role in increasing the profile of the arts at Branksome. Outside of the school, Judith has been actively involved in the Don Valley Art Club, a textile group called Surfacing, and the Costume Society of Ontario.

Branksome Hall, and most particularly the Art department, will miss Judith's vitality, flare, and forthrightness. It is with great fondness that I wish her "Buona fortuna e cangratulazioni per il suo pensionamento."

Heather Pratt

Joan Perdue worked as a part-time nurse in the Health Centre for four years. Having three daughters of her own helped Joan to understand and be sensitive to the many needs of the student body. Joan wants to spend more time with her family and other obligations and so she did not return to BHS last fall. You are missed Joan.
